LYNCH NEGROES IN GEORGIA FOR VOTING G. O. P. TICKET, COMMITTEEMAN TELLS INVESTIGATORS

G. O. P. NEGRO IN THE SOUTH JUST SEEMS TO "VANISH"

CHICAGO, July 8.—Negroes who have voted the Republican ticket in Georgia have "disappeared" and never have been heard of again, Henry Lincoln Johnson, negro Republican national committeeman told the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures today.

The committee was questioning Johnson about lynchings in the south. "They don't lynch men for being in the Republican party, do they?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"Oh, yes they do," Johnson replied. "Many a negro voting the Republican ticket has disappeared and no tidings have ever been heard of him."

In Dublin, Ga., during the pre-convention campaign there was "wild use of money," the witness asserted. "I spent only $150 there," he explained, "but the other fellows spent more than $200."

The other fellows he said were representatives of Major General Leonard Wood, while I was working for my national committee.

Asked if Wood supporters "brought delegates," Johnson said "he didn't know, but they passed out plenty of jack to the boys."

Johnson declared that backers of General Wood spent "around $60,000 in Georgia, while the London supporters spent only $20,000."

Clark L. Grier, former postmaster at Augusta, Ga., was the "pay off" man for the Wood people, he said, adding that Grier worked under direct orders from Frank Hittcock, Roosevelt cabinet general in the Roosevelt cabinet.

Senator Kenyon suddenly turned to the Palmer campaign in Georgia asking Johnson if officials of the department of justice took part in the alleged general's campaign there.

"Hooper L. Alexander, of Atlanta, was the leader," Johnson said.

Other questions concerning activities of the department of justice in Georgia brought no definite information.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The senate committee investigating campaign expenditures will move to St. Louis tonight to take up the investigation of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer's campaign for the Democratic nomination.

Chairman Kenyon announced that hearings were resumed here today.

The principal witnesses in the Palmer investigation will be Edward E. Gurnea, Democratic national committeeman from Missouri, and Joseph T. Davis, an attorney of St. Louis. A report that Gurnea paid the expenses of 25 delegates to the state convention which elected Senator Reed from his district, was denied.

Senator Reed is a member of the investigating committee.

Chicago, July 8.—The senate committee investigating the pre-convention expenditures plans to "delve" thoroughly into the campaign of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer before adjourning the hearing.

Chairman Kenyon said that in this connection Edward E. Gurnea, Democratic national committeeman from Missouri, and Joseph Davis, a St. Louis lawyer, have been

PRESIDENTIAL AND STATE TICKETS IN OHIO WILL BE ON SEPARATE BALLOTS

COLUMBUS, O., July 8.—Names of Cox and Roosevelt and Harding and Coolidge and their presidential electors will appear on a ticket entirely separate from the state ticket in Ohio at the November election, it was announced today at the secretary of state's office.

This will be the first time that the state and national tickets have been separated in presidential years. The Democratic state legislature in 1913 enacted a law to separate the state and national tickets, but the Republican legislature in 1915 repealed this act and in the 1916 presidential election they were consolidated. A Democratic legislature elected with Governor Cox in 1916 again passed a law separating the tickets and it will be in effect for the first time this year. The last Republican general assembly again attempted to consolidate the tickets, but Governor Cox vetoed the action.

This means that the candidates for United States senator and congressmen will have their names printed on the state ticket which will be headed by the candidate for governor. It was reported today that Republican state leaders may ask Secretary of State Smith to place the candidate for United States senator at the head of the state ticket instead of the governor in making up the ballots. The custom of the past has been to have the candidate for governor head the state ticket and friends of State Auditor Donahy, Democratic candidate for governor, it is said, will insist that this rule be followed this year.

The supreme court was expected to issue a writ today on Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith setting a date when he shall appear to show cause why Harry Clay Smith, negro editor of Cleveland, should not have his name printed on the Republican ticket in the primaries as a candidate for secretary of state.

MADRID, July 8.—Police Inspector Turner, of Barcelona, was killed in a saber duel with Police Captain Tera this morning, according to advices from that city. The quarrel between the two men arose over a question of service in the police force, it was said.

Heavy Loss From Breaking Eggs While In Shipment

NEW YORK, July 8.—Losses estimated at $25,000 a week through breakage in the handling of eggs in the New York market alone, resulted today in conferences here between officials of the state and federal bureaus of markets, rail-way and express companies and produce merchants in efforts to devise better methods of handling eggs.

Roy C. Potts, of Washington, representing the federal bureau of markets, said reports of similar losses have been received from Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago. The egg breaking "epidemic" is said to have been in progress for the last six weeks, and officials said if more careful handling is not enforced, an egg famine may ensue.

Women Join Polish Army To Save Nation

WARSAW, July 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Owing to the critical position of the country, volunteers for active service in the army are offering themselves from every side. They include school and university teachers, students, Boy Scouts, civil service and ministerial employees, whose occupations excuse them from military service. The students are enlisting in such numbers that the Warsaw universities have been closed.

Stirred by the appeal of the national council of defense for volunteers, hundreds of girls and women have taken initial steps to join the army. Yesterday uniformed women soldiers with women officers, paraded the streets singing, and for the first time Warsaw saw detachments of female recruits under the guidance of women officers marching to the barracks.

Many of the recruits were wearing girls in short skirts and shirt waists, with braided hair hanging down their backs. The sight of female recruits aroused enthusiasm everywhere along the principal streets. Mixed with the girl recruits were women of from 25 to 30 years who swung parasols, purses and market packages in arms which will soon carry rifles. The women's battalions will be used chiefly for guard duty in garrisons and food depots and as train escorts, thus relieving men for the front lines.

LONDON, July 8.—Russian Bolshevik forces have smashed their way forward on the southern flank of the Polish front and Soviet military authorities claim success in a series of battles near Staro-Konstantinov, toward which town they are driving. According to a Bolshevik official statement received here by wireless, Soviet forces have reached Latchev, 24 miles east of Proskirov and have occupied Mohilev-Podolsk in their drive along the Dnieper river.

Heavy fighting is going on between the Bolsheviks and forces commanded by General Wrangel, on the southern front, the struggle being particularly intense in the region of Orlekhov, the statement says.

WARSAW, July 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Volunteers for immediate service against the advancing Russian Bolshevik forces are called for by the Polish national council of defense in a manifesto just issued. Besides calling able bodied men to arms, the manifesto urges men unit for active service to register in order to release office men for duty at the front.

Champion Stowaway May Go To Europe For Education

NEW YORK, July 8.—After having crossed the ocean five times hidden behind bales and boxes, Mike Gilbooley, 14 years old, "champion stowaway," may within a few months travel luxuriously aboard a trans-Atlantic liner bound for Europe for a temporary visit to promote his education.

This became known today when Mrs. Marion Curry, who adopted the Irish-Italian war orphan, mascot of American troops, denied an erroneous report claiming her prodigy son, Ellis Island, that she had inspired of immigration officers there how she could be relieved of the custody of her ward.

Wilson To Call League Meet In November

LONDON, July 8.—President Wilson has accepted the invitation of the League of Nations to call a meeting of the assembly of the league early in November. It was announced in the house of commons today by Cecil R. Harcourt, under secretary for foreign affairs.

CENSUS RESULTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—Census results announced today are: Weatherford, Texas, 6,213, increase of 1,123, or 22.3 percent. McKeessport, Pa., 43,978, increase of 3,351, or 7.7 percent.

Drops 19,800 Feet In Plane

A new record for parachute drops was set recently at Kelly field, San Antonio, Tex., by Lieut. John H. Wilson when he leaped from an airplane 19,800 feet in the air and descended safely with the aid of two parachutes. Both fastened to him when he jumped. The former U. S. record was 8,000 feet and the former world's record 14,000 feet. Wilson drifted ten miles while dropping.

RESTRICTIONS ON TRADE WITH RUSSIA REMOVED BY AMERICAN OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—Decreased production and impaired credits in Soviet Russia, will, officials here, believe, make impossible any material increase in commerce, notwithstanding removal by the state department of restrictions on trade. The department's action was taken independently but followed extensive exchanges between the United States, Great Britain and France.

The announcement of relaxation explained that the restrictions on trade to materials that might be used for war purposes are still in effect, and that the department's action is not to be construed as any political recognition of any Russian authority. Individual export licenses will be required, and these will be granted only in exceptional cases. Shipments will be made at the owner's risk.

Removal of restrictions was preceded by a series of representations by representatives of commercial houses. Regarding the acceptance of Russian commodities, the title of which may be questioned, the state department included in its announcement a warning, adding that assistance which the United States can normally extend to its citizens cannot be looked for in Russia. No passports for travel in that country will be issued, and no change has been made in mail facilities.

The department added that while there appeared to be available in Russia for export only a small quantity of raw materials and that the purchasing power of the country is very limited, the law-abiding people in Russia should be deprived of any assistance which can be derived from such trading as may be possible.

Among the passengers were 18 Japanese athletes, bound for the Olympic games at Antwerp.

Land Army Of 100,000 Harvesting Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON, July 8.—A land army of 100,000 farm hands recruited and organized by the department of agriculture, is moving northward across the western wheat belt harvesting the nation's grain crop in better time than in many years, according to reports today to the department.

For the first time in years farmers have not been handicapped through labor shortages, Director Taylor of the Farm Bureau said. Attracted by a wage of seven dollars for a ten-hour day, thousands of workers from Atlantic and Allegheny regions have gone west of the Mississippi river to join the harvest drive, according to department officials.

Democrats Decide To Wage Contest In The Eastern States

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright, 1920, by The Times Publishing Co.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 7.—Picking a vice presidential candidate is about as interesting as inaugurating one, he is indifferent in the picture.

But the selection of Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, to go along with Governor Cox on the Democratic ticket was an episode in national politics of no minor importance.

Under the rostrum where nominating speeches were being made for a half dozen vice presidential aspirants, Charlie Murphy of Tennessee, Hall George Brown of Illinois, who is the successor of the late Roger Sullivan, Jim Nugent of New Jersey, Fred Lynch of Minnesota, William Marsh of Iowa, Norman Mack of New York and Ed Moore, the campaign manager of Governor Cox, gathered for a conference, and in full sight of onlooking correspondents held informal debate on the merits of Edward Merrell of Iowa, secretary of agriculture; Victor Murdock of Kansas, member of the federal trade commission and Bull

Money of 1912, and Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state and also Roosevelt progressive.

Masked Men Lynch Negro

DURHAM, N. C., July 8.—Taken from the county jail at Roxboro by a mob of more than 200 masked men a few hours after he had been arraigned on a charge of attacking a 12-year-old white girl, Eddie Roach, 27, a negro, was lynched early today in a churchyard, three miles from the jail. Roach was hanged to a limb of a high tree, a chain being used instead of a rope. As his body swung upward it was riddled with bullets.

The sheriff who protested the seizure was given three minutes to leave the jail by the mob, it was said. He left.

OHIO G. O. P. OPPOSED TO FRONT PORCH CAMPAIGN

CHICAGO, July 8.—Will H. Hays, Republican national chairman, resumed hearings today with party leaders of the progressive in the 1912 campaign, assured party leaders of support on the part of former followers of Theodore Roosevelt.

Protests from Ohio leaders against a "front porch" campaign by Senator Harding will be taken up by the Republican nominee by Mr. Hays, it was said.

J. H. Stoddard, one of the leaders of the progressives in the 1912 campaign, assured party leaders of support on the part of former followers of Theodore Roosevelt.

Protests from Ohio leaders against a "front porch" campaign by Senator Harding will be taken up by the Republican nominee by Mr. Hays, it was said.

Ohio Republican leaders, conferring yesterday with Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, disapproved of the "front porch" plans for Senator Harding. They favored a "swing around the circuit" for the nominee.

Among Ohioans who conferred with the national chairman were Harry M. Daugherty, Senator Harding's pre-convention manager, and George H. Clark, chairman of the Ohio Republican state committee.

"We haven't the slightest apprehension about Ohio," Mr. Clark said.

Says Japan Is Disliked By Whole World

TOKIO, July 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Genshiro Suzuki, member of parliament for Tokio, in an attack on the budget in the house of representatives today declared that Japan was disliked by the whole world and asked if the government had any definite policy to steer it through the "perilous critical period."

Prender Hara, in reply, said he did not think that Japan was disliked by the world at present, but that on the contrary he was inclined to the opinion that Japan was fairly on the way to be regarded as a progressive nation and one of the five great powers.

There were undoubtedly many things which Japan as a great nation must be more watchful about, the premier added but he wanted to denounce the attitude of the minority which considered it had the privilege of making indiscriminate attacks.

Will Meet To Consider Wage Award WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—A special meeting of the general chairman of sixteen railroad labor organizations has been called for Chicago on July 19, so they may consider the wage award of the railroad labor board as soon as it is made. The award is expected on or about July 30.

In addition to the general chairman, about 1,200 committeemen from the unions are expected to be in Chicago at the same time to vote on the award. If the labor board's decision is accepted by the convention, it will then be submitted to a referendum vote of the unions, it was said at labor headquarters today, under an agreement that the entire membership should have opportunity to pass on it.

Rescued From Drowning;
Dies From Pneumonia

Mr. and Mrs. George Enrich, of 915 Second street, received a telegram Wednesday night bringing the sad news of the death of his nephew in Hamilton. Death was caused by pneumonia, which developed after the young man had a narrow escape from drowning.

Tuesday the nephew came near drowning, but was rescued. A short time later pneumonia developed and within 21 hours the young man, about 18 years of age, had passed away. Mr. and Mrs. Enrich left early Thursday morning for Hamilton.

The case of John Mithlough against Flooding Skaggs for $21, alleged due on a contract was heard in Squire William McManis court at New Boston Tuesday night and the case was left in the hands of the jury with orders to report Wednesday night. The jury asked for time to view the sidewalk involved in the contract. Mithlough claimed that he put down a sidewalk according to specifications of the village and that after completion Skaggs demanded that the sidewalk be raised to his plans. Mithlough says he did the work according to Skaggs and that Skaggs refused to pay him for the work. Skaggs wanted the village to take over the sidewalk and pay for it but the village refused to take any hand in the matter as it was above the level specified.

The jury reported to the magistrate Wednesday night at 6 o'clock that they had decided the case in favor of the plaintiff which means Skaggs is to pay Mithlough the $21.

TOOK HIS CONSCIENCE 15 YEARS TO MAKE HIM PAY BACK A QUARTER

A weight that laid upon his conscience for fifteen years was lifted Monday, when a man walked into Win Nye's drug store, and laid down a quarter.

"Fifteen years ago I was in your store, and when unobserved, I picked up a bottle of perfume and slid it into my pocket. A card said the perfume was 25 cents a bottle. Here is the money—that theft has been a dead weight upon my conscience for fifteen years," the well-dressed man is reported to have said.

Fifteen years ago Mr. Nye had a partner, and while he was waiting upon a customer in the rear of the store the now reformed one "snatched" the perfume. Fifteen years beneath the scathing search of an outraged conscience with only a quarter in the way of peace of mind! He did not offer to pay the interest on the money, the present price of the luxury, or even the war tax.

Measles Must Be Quarantined; Other
Important Matters In New Health Law

Three provisions in the health law, which went into effect July 1st are emphasized by the city physician, Dr. Gilbert Micklethwait, as being especially important of the public's special notice.

These provisions are:

1. Measles must be quarantined.
2. Two negative cultures must be secured before a case of diphtheria can be released from quarantine.
3. Cases of whooping-cough must be quarantined, and children infected must be able to play out, must wear arm-bands signifying that they have the disease. Children, thus, are warned when they are tempted to play with a child wearing an arm band, and the spread of the disease, it is hoped, will thus be partially checked.

Speaking of new health laws, Dr. A. D. Hendrickson, coroner, says that he has heard rumors of a new law which may be proposed to the legislature governing his line of work. The proposed new law, the coroner says, would stipulate that where doctors did not agree as to the cause of death in any case, a post-mortem examination should be held under the auspices of the coroner and the cause of death determined.

Under the present law, the doctor says, post-mortem examinations are only necessary when there is an element of mystery about a death, or a murder has been committed, or another is thought to be directly responsible for the death.

Under this new law the number of post-mortem examinations would be doubled, the coroner says. The object of his proposed statute, he says, is to benefit humanity. In cases where the illness is puzzling to physicians, the exact cause could be determined, and the next time a similar case presented itself, physicians would know how to treat it.

ACCUSES WIFE; ASKS DIVORCE

Charging infidelity and naming one Edward Pemberton, Fred W. Haffner, steelworker, 2301 Eighth street, is seeking a divorce and custody of their two minor children in an action filed in Common Pleas court Wednesday against Amy N. Haffner.

They were married Sept. 1, 1912, and through Attorney F. T. Moreland the plaintiff declares his wife has been guilty of misconduct with Pemberton. He secured an injunction restraining the defendant from taking the children out of the jurisdiction of court until the case can be heard on its merits and the question as to their custody determined.

It is the worst of folly to reason such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids, which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead, treat from the source a few ounces of "Magenesia" and take a teaspoonful in a quart of water, right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind, and flatulence out of the body, soothe the stomach, neutralize the excess acids, and prevent its formation, and fused a seat at the Democratic national convention, announced here today that he will support the Democratic ticket and always be a Democrat.

A Remarkable Record
"Ch'ella mi creda"
(That She May Believe Me)
from "The Girl of the Golden West"
Sung by Edward Johnson

This is the farewell of "Dick Johnson" (Edmond Ransome) who is about to leave the country for his country home by leaving the end of a rope. The song, though brief, is a masterpiece of comedy, and the most perfect of the entire career.

Two talking records that everyone will want to hear again and again.

"The Moon Shines on the Moonshine"
Sung by Selma Ferguson
"So Long! So Long!"
Sung by Victor Roberts

The former is the plant of a poor old fellow who has been in the moonshine business for years. The latter is a love song of a man who is leaving his sweetheart.

Don't pass by without hearing these records played for you. We have all the

PAINS SO BAD
STAYED IN BED

Young Mrs. Johnston Had Miserable Time Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chicago, Ill.—"I was very sick for some time with pains in my side and back and I could not do my work at times the pain in my side was so bad, I would have to stay in bed for days."

My mother-in-law had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me.

I tried it and I am now able to do all my work. You can publish my testimonial and I hope the Compound will do others the good it has done me.—Mrs. ANNA JOHNSTON, 205 E. 41st St., Chicago.

For forty years women have been telling how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast.

If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It is made from native roots and herbs and contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

PACKERS
CHARGES OF PROFITEERING

BOSTON, Mass., July 8.—Indictments charging profiteering in food were reported here by a federal grand jury against E. C. Swift and company, Armour and company, N. E. Hollis and company, and The Independent Sugar company of this city. The indictments are the first to be returned in New England by a federal grand jury for alleged food profiteering.

The Swift indictment charges that 17 cents was received for beef which cost the corporation only 10 1/2 cents a pound and it is charged that Armour and company sold New Zealand lamb which cost 9 and a fraction cents for 25 1/2 cents a pound.

GIRLS ARE OFFERED SEVEN WEEKS OF HAPPY CAMP LIFE

Seven weeks of swimming, diving, boating, fishing, performing various athletic stunts, learning useful things, enjoying life in the great outdoors—such are a few joys of the camp life which is open for Adams County girls. The girls' camp will be held at the Adams Lake place on Brush Creek, New York.

about a quarter of a mile from Adams. The season will last until the second week in September. Miss Mary Griffin has charge of the camp and will be ably assisted by Miss Alice Johnston and Miss Louise Bailey, who will arrive soon from New York City. Misses Griffin and Bailey have had experience in running a girls' camp near New York.

Fifteen girls will form the first contingent of happy campers, and will leave Monday morning to begin their new life of recreation and usefulness in the woods.

Miss Griffin will gladly give information regarding the camp to anyone calling on her. The expenses of the campers will be $5 per week.

Among the girls who have registered to spend all, or a part of the season at camp are Misses Elsie Rothwell, Frances Walker, Esther Pennywell, Gertrude Hood, Janet Richardson, Frances Alger, Charlotte Hewitt, Edith Johnston, Judith Quanser, Jean Foster, Nina Compton, Lena and Pauline Longin, Flossie Sturges, Vera and Edith Webb, Harriet and Fredricka Glendon, Merle Monk, Marcella Howlands, Genevieve Kirkpatrick, Jessie and Hazel Platt and Mary Monk.

Miss Hubert Ill

Miss Emma Hubert of the Bureau of Community Service is ill at her home at 1910 Waller street. She underwent an operation for removal of tonsils Wednesday. Miss Hubert is on a month's vacation and plans to visit in Chicago later.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulford's coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

and astonished all New York in the audacious "Dark-Scene" Test.

and then the LIGHTS went OUT

Read below what the New York newspapers said of the test. Remember—the marvelous instrument used in New York City was an exact duplicate of the original Official Laboratory Model, which cost Mr. Edison three million dollars in research work. We, too, have an exact duplicate of the famous three million dollar original. We guarantee that it is capable of sustaining all the astonishing tests made on March 10th, at Carnegie Hall, New York City. Come in and hear this guaranteed Official Laboratory Model. Experience its marvelous realism for yourself. We give Mr. Edison's unique Realism Test.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

"A portion of the demonstration was even carried on without the lights, so that no one could see whether Miss Case's lips moved or not. It was all genuinely instructive, and the twinship between Miss Case's singing, and the reproduction thereof, proved so close as to be often indistinguishable."—New York Globe.

"When you see and hear Miss Case sing, you can scarcely believe that an art so essentially individual and personal as hers could ever be reproduced mechanically, yet the New Edison has succeeded to the point where the voice in the fluffy pink draperies and the voice in the mahogany box seemed one and the same."—New York Evening Mail.

"When the lights were lowered, it was impossible to tell when it was Anna Case, and when it was only her voice that was singing."—New York Evening Sun.

The "dark scene" test was positively sensational in its proof of the realism of the New Edison.

Anna Case, the world-famed soprano, stood beside a dignified Chippendale cabinet. She started to sing. Her voice enthralled the audience with its colorful brilliance.

Suddenly the lights went out. Densest black swallowed stage, phonograph and singer.

When you come in, ask about our Budget Plan. It makes the dollar go farther—the New Edison comes earlier.

But Miss Case's voice went smoothly on. It rose to the very heights of its superb artistry.

Then, the lights flashed on! The audience gasped with astonishment. Case was gone! Her voice had been coming from the New Edison.

Under cover of the darkness, Miss Case had stolen from the platform, leaving the New Edison to continue her song alone. The audience never knew she had gone, till the lights went up.

The exact duplicate of this instrument is here in our store,—waiting to prove its perfect realism to you.

ASHLAND SHEET MILL SHUT DOWN; RECOGNITION OF UNION REFUSED

ASHLAND, KY., July 8.—The sheet mill department of the Ashland Iron and Mining Company is not in operation, due to the fact that the workmen, for some reason, refuse to work. Most of the hot mill men are members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Sheet and Tin Workers.

The mill went down last Wednesday evening at 4 o'clock and was scheduled to begin operation again at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. At 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, three men appeared for work and therefore the mill was left idle.

The details of the whole affair are shrouded in mystery. No one will give any statements in regard to the facts. The men themselves seem to know nothing about it. The best that can be learned is that the men are demanding recognition of their union. They want the management to sign an agreement to run a closed shop instead of an open shop as they are now doing.

The union men say it is no strike and it is not a walkout. They are merely taking a vacation.

H. C. Rogers, a man high in local labor councils, when asked for facts upon the case, declared that it was the turtle fishing season and that the men are going fishing for awhile.

This statement is similar to all that is being said by the officials. Mr. S. C. Peckles, general manager of the A. L. & M. Company, declares that he has no definite news. He said that a representative committee from the union men called upon him last Wednesday for a conference.

Mr. Peckles declared that he would not accept them as representatives of any union, but as employees of the company he would talk with them. He made plain to them that the past policy of the company was an open shop and the future policy would be like-wise. He told them that they were getting the union scale of wages and hours, but that the plant would continue to be an open shop.

The local unionists are awaiting orders from general headquarters before an official strike is called. These orders should be received before the week end.

Truck and Tractor Paint

Buying a new truck or tractor is one thing. Keeping it like new is another. One takes a roll of bills—the other takes but one bill off the roll. One is good for the other fellow's business—the other is good for your business. What's good for your business, is good for you.

It's surprising what a little paint will do to keep your trucks and tractors new. Lowe Brothers' paint for trucks, tractors, wagons and machinery is made for that one purpose and no other. Knowing the reputation of Lowe Brothers' Paint, that's about all you need to know about this particular paint. Come in and ask us for facts about this paint.

Pain

Here is a message to suffering women, from Mrs. Kathryn Edwards, of R. F. D. 4, Washington Court House, Ohio. "I am glad to tell, and have told many women, what I suffered before I used Cardui. It is for women. It is the great benefit to be derived from this remedy. A few years ago I became practically helpless."

Cardui

The Women's Tonic

"I was very weak," Mrs. Edwards goes on to say, "and could not sleep without suffering great pain. Nothing seemed to help me until I heard of Cardui and began the use of it. I gradually gained my strength. I am now able to do all my work. If you need a tonic like Cardui, it is for women. It acts gently and reliably and will probably help you as it helped this lady."

1,000 Pairs of Mens' and Young Mens' Trousers Will be Placed on Sale Friday July 9th, At Manufacturers Cost

This is the biggest deal this store ever pulled off. The Kalamazoo Pants Co., makers of high grade trousers are rebuilding their plant and decided to close out their entire stock on hand. Knowing that we have four stores and a big outlet for merchandise, made us a proposition to close a portion of their stock at ridiculously low prices. The price was so low that we couldn't resist buying one thousand pairs. The trousers are now in our store. They are going to be sold the way we bought them, less than actual wholesale price.

THEY WILL BE DIVIDED INTO TWO LOTS

Lot No. 1
$4.95

Trousers in this lot consist of light and medium weight cheviots and cassimeres and worth up to $8.00.

Lot No. 2

Trousers in this lot consist of pure worsteds, blue serges, flannels, etc., and are worth up to $12.00.

This surely is a wonderful opportunity, right at a time when every man can use an extra pair of trousers, many patterns to match your coat. You'll want several pairs when you see the saving. Now don't put off and let the other fellow beat you here.

Assembly designed to give financial relief to cities was the big business before council at its regular meeting Wednesday night. It resulted in the adoption of a resolution by a vote of 4 to 2, authorizing the submission to the voters at the primary election to be held on August 10, the proposition of exempting from the limitations of the Smith one per cent law, taxes for interest and sinking fund purposes on account of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the city. It was explained that the rate of taxes that would be required for such purposes in the year 1920, on the basis of the estimated duplicate for such year is two and twenty-two hundredths mills and the number of years during which the exemption from such limitations would apply is 25 years. The resolution adopted cited that the bonded indebtedness of the city on January 20, 1920, was $625,000, plus interest charges, $82,500.00, of which was then outstanding.

Mayor Gableman in urging approval of the plan stated it was necessary to take action at this time in order to get the proposition submitted to the voters and take advantage of the provisions of the new law. He frankly stated that he had been unable to get very little information concerning the new law and pointed out that if after a thorough investigation, it is discovered the proposition is not a good one, then council can call off the election.

The mayor explained that the adoption of the resolution only put the city in a position to take advantage of the new law in event it works out in practice what is claimed for it. He suggested that informal meetings of the Finance committee of council and Chamber of Commerce and Budget Commission and others interested in the financial affairs of the city be held during the next few weeks and the matter thrashed out.

It was estimated by Solicitor S. A. Seim Skilton that the additional levy will produce approximately $101,000 additional revenue in taxes annually which lost by a vote of 4 to 2. Members Bennett and Runyan opposing, and the measure was then passed by the same vote.

Member Bennett opposed the resolution on the ground he had not had an opportunity to investigate the proposition, and indicated that "some one was trying to put something over" and this colleague took the same view. Considerable other legislation was passed providing for improvement of these streets: Brown street, Argonne road, Charles street, William street, Spring Lane, Market road, leading five alleys in various sections of the city. Council ordered the work to proceed through passage of the ordinance approving the plans and estimates.

The sum of $22 was appropriated to pay the claim of John Foster, caused by a leak in the high pressure water main at West avenue, New Boston, on March 13, last, which washed Foster's property.

An ordinance increasing the salary of the clerk of the Municipal court from $125 to $150 a month was passed unanimously.

Engineer George S. Wilhelm submitted an estimate of $1,001.25 to construct a diversion ditch and sewer on the north side of Gallia street, west of the railroad Y. M. C. A. to protect property on lot 150 at East Portsmouth and it was referred to committee for a report.

The plan of paving Sterling avenue and Valley street, situated in the new territory annexed above New Boston, was referred back to the street committee for a report. The engineer recommended that the paving of these two streets be deferred until some later date, stating in a communication to council, that Sterling avenue will have to be graded higher, and that such work can be done this year. He claims the street should be raised about three feet higher than it is now.

Continuing, the engineer said, "The dirt for this filling can be secured from the grading of Valley street and the balance needed be taken from the bars of gravel in Munro's Run. This will clear the channel, keeping it in shape for heavy rains."

The engineer also submitted an estimate for putting in of a concrete slab and pier bridge over Munro's Run at Sterling street crossing, that will be permanent, at a cost of $3,400.

Safety Director Straus in recommending council that the new traffic officer is soon to be put to work, urged that additional traffic regulations be adopted in order that offenders may be prosecuted under city ordinances instead of state laws so as to give the city the benefit of the fines. His request went to the ordinance committee for consideration with instructions to confer with officials of the new auto club who are now working on a draft of traffic regulations. It was stated.

The safety director's request for authority to dispose of the two old automobiles of the police department and buy a new one, was referred in the committee. He reported the collection at the hospital for the month of June was $2,750.00, and that the electrical inspector's collection for the same period, was $105.

An ordinance prohibiting the use of public vehicles for funeral purposes and providing a penalty of a fine of not more than $300 for each violation, was passed, as was also an ordinance appropriating money to take care of small deficiencies in the fund-annual appropriations for the first half of 1920. The latter was passed despite criticism of the state examiner against such practice in his last report.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED AND SORE FEET

Use "Tiz" for puffed-up burning aching, calloused feet and corns

Why go flapping around with aching puffed-up feet—feet so tired, chafed, sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a box of "Tiz" from the drug store and rub it on your tired feet? "Tiz" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and draws the soreness and misery right out of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "Tiz" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and blisters. "Tiz" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe tightness—no more foot torture.

Plans for the national shooting matches to be held by the government at Camp Perry, Ohio, beginning on August 1, have been announced. The government again this year will pay the expenses of teams of eighteen men from each state and from the various U. S. T. G. camps. Team members will receive five cents a mile for transportation and will also be allowed $1.50 a day for meals while at the shoot. It is expected that at least 1,400 riflemen will compete.

This year the civilian riflemen who draw their mileage and subsistence has to attend a two weeks' firing school to be conducted by the former instructors of the army's small arms firing school of the days during the war. Following the close of the school, about August 5, the matches of the National Rifle Association, open to any one and to any old sort of rifle or pistol, commence and run until the time for the government's matches, the

May Stage A Fight At Coney Island

New York, July 8.—Coney Island, N. Y.'s play ground, was added today to the list of possible battle-ground for the prospective Dempsey-Carpenter heavyweight championship boxing-match, when the managers of the two pugilists met here to discuss terms for a bout.

An unnamed promoter is said to have authorized Charles J. Harvey, former secretary of the boxing commission, to offer $500,000 for the privilege of staging the championship contest at the famous amusement park. Thanksgiving Day was the date discussed at the conference.

New-York - Day - By - Day

NEW YORK, June 5.—Someone decried Broadway as a punchbowl of surfaces, with roses floating on top and sharp, cruel, piercing things hidden underneath. This too has proved true to the waistline and the owners of the White Way who plunge into the bubbling froth of life for color, color and frivolity. Indeed it is a state of mind—a comedy, tragedy, farce, optimistic, rural good and a headache. The more studies the most widely press agent street in the world the more are convinced that Broadway is typical in its thoughts.

And there is a soul in the streamers that turn is not only the light from millions of lights that make the sky. Touch the hearts of those who see it, I believe, the most graceful street in the world. Every wish of sentiment are tapped deep in a guilty heart.

When he climbed into bed that piece of furniture gave a groan of despair and collapsed onto the floor.

He sat, in an adjoining room, rushed to the door of his father's bed room.

"What's happened, dad?" he said.

"Can't be sure."

"Is all right," came the paternal reply, "only if you don't find me here in the morning look to the cellar."—New York Morning Telegraph.

OHIO REPUBLICANS OBJECT TO HARDING'S 'FRONT PORCH' PLAN

COMMITTEE TO PROBE THE PALMER CHARGES

Chicago, July 8.—The senate committee investigating pre-convention expenditures plans to "delve" thoroughly into the campaign of Attorney General Mitchell Palmer before adjourning its hearing. The committee, headed by Senator Edward J. Gurnea of St. Louis, Democratic national committeeman and Joseph Davis, a St. Louis lawyer, have been subpoenaed.

In addition to questioning Davis and Gurnea, the committee will investigate charges filed today by Win. Armstrong, Chicago attorney.

He charged that the department of justice had been instrumental in granting pardons to alleged criminals who, he said, might be taken up by the government of persons trying to gain several hundred thousand dollars by illegal means.

Mr. Armstrong's argument consisted of a printed book of 62 pages. He charged the department of justice with attempting to "prevent justice" by being retained against the New York Central railroad by a federal grand jury, and said a "Democratic member of congress" agreed with "a certain person to obtain $327,128.12 from the government on post war claims if given 25 per cent."

The committee delayed into the organization and expenditures of lack of funds had been instrumental in preventing the department of justice from clearing house through which Mr. Wood had received a group of New York men underwrite $1,000,000 for the Wood campaign, Senator Jones Reed took up the cross question of nearly a dozen witnesses concerning political conditions in Missouri.

Among the witnesses called before the committee were Win. Loomis, former private secretary to Theo. Roosevelt and who described himself as a "man of clearing house through which Mr. Wood had received a group of New York men underwrite $1,000,000 for the Wood campaign, Senator Jones Reed took up the cross question of nearly a dozen witnesses concerning political conditions in Missouri."

Mr. Armstrong presented to the committee a mass of documentary evidence which he said would "prove" that Attorney General Palmer had used the power of his office to influence delegates to the Democratic national convention.

Mr. Armstrong told the committee the documents would also show Mr. Palmer's alleged pardons for criminals and prevented the gathering of evidence in cases where there were charges of defrauding the government.

Mr. Loomis presented several test cases which he said would show what he had been doing. About $100,000, he testified, had been paid through his hands, he testified, to G. C. Stein and Robert Moore, the St. Louis delegates to the Republican national convention who presented London's interests, presented checks as proof they had received the money.

Congratulatory Telegrams Pour Into Gov. Cox's Office

DAYTON, O., July 7. Governor Cox's Democratic campaign for president, was busy today at his newspaper office trying to read a portion of the thousands of congratulatory telegrams which have been pouring in since his nomination. He arrived at the office at 9:30, fresh and energetic. With him perusing the telegrams was Colonel George H. Wood, his former adjutant general.

Among the congratulatory telegrams received was one from William G. McKelton, his chief opponent for the nomination. It said, "heartily congratulations and assurance of my cordial support." Another from Carter Glass, secretary of the treasury said: "Glad to accept my congratulations on your nomination." Vice president and Mrs. Marshall also sent congratulations.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice presidential nominee, sent the following telegram in response to the governor's of last night:

"The sincere congratulations and warm regards of your team mate are all yours. I will stop off on my way east to convey to you in person."

One of the most highly prized congratulations came from Colonel Henry Waterson. The governor said he was particularly pleased over it because Colonel Waterson represented him the ideal journalist. Colonel Waterson's telegram said:

"The governor announced today that he probably will not return to the executive office at Columbus this week. He expects Mr. Roosevelt's running mate, in Dayton about Saturday."

son's telegram said:

"Your nomination revitalized Democracy. It will stir the Democratic heart of the nation with a reflection of a triumphant forecast of a radiant future."

To the bosom of one Kentuckian it brings a flood of fighting memories along with the assurance of glorious victory."

Another highly prized message came from Jake Daubert of the Cincinnati Reds. It said:

"It was in the stars that the Reds should win the pennant. It is in the stars that you should be president." The first part of the message was the governor's own language in congratulating the Reds on winning the pennant. Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, also sent congratulations.

Governor Cox said he had received congratulatory messages from every candidate before the San Francisco convention, many from the ranks of labor and equally as many from business men throughout the country.

Tonight Governor Cox will address contenders in the Ohio golf tournament at the Dayton Country Club.

The governor announced today that he probably will not return to the executive office at Columbus this week. He expects Mr. Roosevelt's running mate, in Dayton about Saturday."

Rockefeller 81 Years Old

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., July 8.—John D. Rockefeller, celebrated his eighty-first birthday anniversary quietly at his Pocantico Hills estate today.

There was no pre-arranged program for the day, but many friends of the aged financier and philanthropist called in person or sent messages congratulating him on the passing of his eighty-first birthday.

Seen' Apes At Marietta

MARIETTA, O., July 8.—Discovery of what is thought to have been a full grown ape in a nearby woods, has thrown the village of Marietta, near here, into a panic.

A party returning late last night from an entertainment were struck with terror when they saw what they agreed was a large ape moving along the road before them. Men in the party got their guns from their homes but the animal had disappeared before their return.

SOVIET TROOPS PUSH BACK POLE FORCES

LONDON, July 8.—Russian Bolshevik forces have snatched their way forward on the southern flank of the Polish front and Soviet military authorities claim success in a series of battles near Slonim-Konstantinov, toward which town they are driving Poles, according to a Bolshevik official statement received here by wireless.

Soviet forces have reached Mlisch, 24 miles east of Proskir and have occupied Mlisch-Podolsk in their drive along the Dnieper river.

Heavy fighting is going on between the Bolsheviks and forces commanded by General Wrangel, on the southern front, the struggle being particularly intense in the region of Orlikov, the statement says.

WARSAW, July 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Volunteers for immediate service against the advancing Russian Bolshevik forces are called for by the Polish national council of defense in a manifesto just issued. Besides calling able bodied men to arms, the manifesto urges men until for active service to register in order to release office men for duty at the front.

The document, which bears the signature of President Pilsudski, declares the struggle is a fight against Bolshevism rather than against Russia.

Citizens having in their possession swords, rifles, pistols or ammunition, are urged to turn them over to the government for use in the army.

PARIS, July 8.—Reports of the capture of Rowno, one of the three famous fortresses in Western Russia by the Bolsheviks, are confirmed by a Polish official statement today.

WANT NOMINEE TO TAKE SWING AROUND CIRCUIT

CHICAGO, July 8.—Will H. Hays, Republican national chairman, returned here today with party leaders of the middle western states. He will leave tomorrow for Marion, with T. C. Coleman, chairman of the nomination notification committee, to confer with Senator Harding. Hearings will not be taken up in Chicago again until the notification ceremonies at the home of Senator Harding July 22.

L. H. Stoddard, one of the leaders of the progressives in the 1912 campaign, assured party leaders of support on the part of former followers of Theodore Roosevelt.

Protests from Ohio leaders against a "front porch" campaign by Senator

Harding will be taken up by the Republican nominee by Mr. Hays, it was said.

Ohio Republican leaders conferring yesterday with Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, disapproved of the "front porch campaign" plans for Senator Harding. They favored a "swing around the circuit" for the nominee.

Among Ohioans who conferred with the national chairman were Harry M. Daugherty, Senator Harding's pre-convention manager, and George H. Clark, chairman of the Ohio Republican state committee.

"We haven't the slightest apprehension about Ohio," Mr. Clark said.

RESTRICTIONS ON TRADE WITH RUSSIA REMOVED BY AMERICAN OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—Increased production and improved credits in Soviet Russia, will, officials here believe, make impossible any material increase in commerce, notwithstanding removal by the state department of restrictions on trade. The department's action was taken independently but followed extensive exchanges between the United States, Great Britain and France.

The announcement of relaxation explained that the restrictions on trade in materials that might be used for war purposes are still in effect, and that the department's action is not to be construed as any political recognition of any Russian authority. Individual export licenses will be required, and these will be granted only in exceptional cases. Shipments will be made at the owner's risk.

Removal of restrictions was preceded by a series of representations by representatives of commercial houses, regarding the acceptance of Russian commodities, the title of which may be questioned, the state department included in its announcement a warning, adding that assistance which the United States can normally extend to its citizens cannot be looked for in Russia. No passports for travel in that country will be issued, and no change has been made in mail facilities.

The department added that while there appeared to be available in Russia for export only, a small quantity of raw materials and that the purchasing power of the country is very limited, the United States "does not feel that the law-abiding people in Russia should be deprived of any assistance which can be derived from such trading as may be possible."

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 8.—The upward swing of prices in the stock market made further progress at the opening of today's session, signs pointing to a continuance of yesterday's activity in the popular speculative shares. Some of the oil, equipment and motor subsidiaries rose one to almost three points in the first few minutes of trading and rails gave promise of extending yesterday's moderate gains. Shipbuilding, chemicals, textiles and utilities advanced from half a point to two points.

Police Official Killed In Duel

MADRID, July 8.—Police Inspector Turner, of Barcelona, was killed in a duel with Police Captain Toco this morning, according to advice from that city. The quarrel between the two men arose over a question of service in the police force, it was said.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Seven steel, 7,500 ton cargo carriers will be sent into the Delaware river at the New Island ship yard on July 21, establishing a new world's record for ship launchings in one day. Matthew C. Bush, president of the American International Shipbuilding Corporation, in making the announcement, said the launching gang would be in place only fifty minutes to complete the task.

When the last of the seven vessels leaves the ways, 122 ships will have been launched at New Island since August, 1918.

Heavy Loss From Breaking Eggs While In Shipment

NEW YORK, July 8.—Losses estimated at $25,000 a week through breakage in the handling of eggs in the New York market alone, shifted today in conferences here between officials of the state and federal bureaus of markets, railway and express companies and produce merchants in efforts to devise better methods of handling eggs.

Roy C. Potts, of Washington, representing the federal bureau of markets, said reports of similar losses have been received from Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago. The egg handling "epidemic" is said to have been in progress for the last six weeks, and officials said if more careful handling is not enforced, an egg famine may ensue.

Add To Paper Plant

CHILLICOTHE, O., July 8.—Construction work on the new addition at the Mead Pulp and Paper company is progressing rapidly, according to reports from the big plant.

The workmen were busy Wednesday arranging to pour concrete for floor floor in the machine room.

The new paper storage building, back of the finishing and machine rooms is also beginning to take on a semi-completed shape.

The finishing room has been completed for some time. These new additions make the Mead plant at Chillicothe one of the largest of its kind in the state.

Fans Anxious To Give Cain And Dilts Joyous Welcome

PERRY ANTE

Here With Mark-Greys On Saturday And Sunday, Visitors Compose Fast Team

The fans of Portsmouth are planning a great reception for Homer Cain and Stewart Dilts when they appear here Saturday and Sunday as members of the Mark-Greys, of Zanesville, the club that is to battle with Gabe's All Stars at Millbrook Park on the above days. Word from Zanesville is to the effect that Cain and Dilts, former members of the Portsmouth O. S. L. team, are regarded as the two best outfielders in semi-pro circles. They have been playing long up ball for the Zanesville team and are applauded every time they take up the bat. On Independence Day, the Mark-Greys won a double header from the Dayton Triangles. On Sunday, however, they lost a ten inning struggle to that team by the lowest possible score. The Dayton team is said to be next to the Toledo Hot Lights in playing strength, and the fact that the Mark-Greys beat them rather handily on the fourth, scores 6 to 3 and 5 to 2 would indicate that the Pottery will prove rather tough picking for the All Stars. In the 1 to 6 game they lost to Dayton Al Leake was the opposition pitcher. Leake, it will be recalled, was with Charleston in the O. S. L. and at that time was considered the best spit ball artist outside the big show. He went to the International League and did good work.

With Zanesville will appear second baseman Prysock, an old O. S. L. boy, who is a fox for cunningness, and who has stood up the Mark-Grey infield wonderfully. Zanesville is coming down Saturday noon and will bring 11 players. They expect to take both Saturday and Sunday as members of the Mark-Greys, of Zanesville, the club that is to battle with Gabe's All Stars at Millbrook Park on the above days. Word from Zanesville is to the effect that Cain and Dilts, former members of the Portsmouth O. S. L. team, are regarded as the two best outfielders in semi-pro circles. A Saturday game at Millbrook is in the nature of an experiment on the part of Owner Gableman. However, he could not get the Zanesville club without giving a two day guarantee. In the hope that the game of Saturday will prove a success from a financial viewpoint, the game between the Solway and Dress in the Industrial League has been postponed until a later date. This will enable the Industrial League fans to journey to Millbrook Park, where they will be glad of the opportunity to do honor to Messrs Cain and Dilts and incidentally put in several good ticks for the All Stars.

The two teams will meet at Millbrook Sunday, following a curtain raiser to be staged by two crack cornered teams, the Buckeyes of Portsmouth and the Greenup Giants. This game will start at 1:30 new time.

Pirate Boss Says White Sox Will Repeat This Season

President Dreyfus, of the Pirates, is of the opinion that the White Sox will repeat in the American League. He has seen all of the contending teams play and says in his judgment, the White Sox look better fitted for a long campaign than either the Indians or the Yankees. He does not express any opinion as to which club will win out in the National League but he is known to have his hopes.

CHARLIE'S SECOND SEES HIM KAYOEI

Mrs. Frank Feingut.

When Charlie White entered the ring to fight Benny Leonard at Boston Harbor, July 5, he had it in his corner to assist him his sister Mrs. Frank Feingut—the first woman to occupy a corner during a recognized prize fight. She couldn't save him from defeat, and saw him take the count in the ninth round after having been flogged five times. Mrs. Feingut is a drill sergeant of the Macabees and takes a deep interest in all sports.

Powerful "Fourth Estate"

The "Fourth estate" is the newspaper press. It is so designated because it is a distinct power in the state. Formerly the phrase designated the persons constituting the lowest and unrepresented classes of society, as distinguished from the commons.

To Farm Pitchers

Manager Moran is floundering on farming out some of his collection of young pitchers to the team in order to develop and gain experience. Those who are sent out will be regarded in the full if they have shown any signs of being big league caliber.

Sicking With Reds

Eddie Sicking, utility infielder of the New York Giants has been refused by the Cincinnati club.

Sicking bails from the Youngstown territory and over a year ago was transferred to Camp Shavano, where he played baseball and a little basketball. He is a young fellow with plenty of promise.

Rough Back In Field

With Pawlet back at first for the Reds, Bochy who has been holding down the point will return to his place in center field. See who filled Eddie's place in the middle garden played a fine brand of ball. But he is all connections lacks the experience to do the right thing at the right time. Bochy is at Pittsburgh to throw the ball to the plate where it should have been.

Best Preparation for Writer

"Read the Bible for inspiration, knowledge and power," said Daniel "Gibson" Travels for detail, and Robert Louis Stevenson for style. Any man who can make a study of the Bible and who will analyze Stevenson's "Trevelyan" and Sir Robert Louis Stevenson in his heart will become a good writer, provided there is also natural talent to start with.

Telling Time by Heart Throbs

The average man's idea of a minute may be anywhere between 15 seconds and 200. But we all have a reliable clock in our bodies. The secret is simply to count your pulse-beats. Most people know how often their pulses beat in a minute, and it is, of course, easy to find out. The average rate is 72 a minute for a man, and rather more for a woman. A healthy person, however, may have a pulse-rate of anywhere between 60 and 84 a minute. So your own rate may easily be much faster or slower than the average. The secret that the sense of time was due to heart throbs was only guessed when a psychologist studying the problem discovered that people with unsound hearts are a rule abnormally weak in estimating the passage of time.

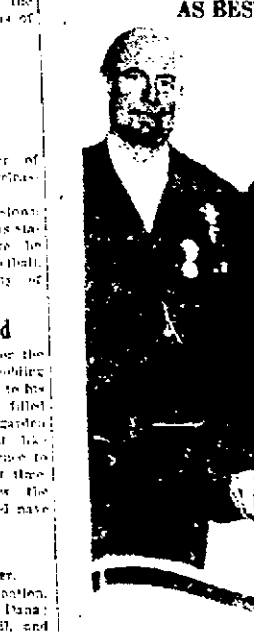

Arctic Relics

Many interesting relics have been found recently of the last race or pre-historic people who lived in the great community dwellings now in ruins near Arctic, New Mexico. The evidences of a surprisingly high civilization include curious sandals woven from quana leaves, fibre and cotton. The people delighted in ornaments of shells cut into discs and beads of turquoise and shell. There are jumper arrow points, bone hoes and needles. The basket weaving was also of a high artistic quality. The most interesting of these relics is the called pottery made by rolling long strips of clay and winding them round and round as is done in coiled baskets. The ancient people who made these articles are believed to have been the original cliff dwellers—Hoya's Life.

Wesley's Physical Toughness

Spare diet and constant exercise, in the morning air helped to endow Wesley with that amazing physical toughness which enabled him, when eight-five years old, to walk six miles in a precluding appointment and declare that the only sign of old age he felt was that "he could not walk nor run quite so fast as he once did."—W. H. Fitchett in "Wesley and His Country."

He was at the wedding at the home of Mrs. Bradstreet, who is the widow of a prominent lawyer and politician. Bryan is a close friend of the bridegroom, and he made a few remarks to the bride and groom.

Dates Back to Old Testament

Throwing old shoes after a bridal couple dates back to the Old Testament. When a man transferred a piece of property he took off his shoe and handed it to the purchaser to seal the bargain. In marriage ceremony it has come to mean that the parents give up all dominion over their daughter. In ancient times, when the young man was unable to arrange with the parents for the purchase of the girl, he would run off with her and hide. Many times he employed the help of a trusted friend. From these incidents comes the well-known custom of the wedding journey of hidden destination. The trusted friend of long ago is the best man of today, who still helps with the arrangements of the marriage.

Death Valley Sand Storm

A sandstorm in Death valley is a weird spectacle to behold. At times a cloudless gale, gathering heat as it hurries along between the blazing sun and white, hot sands of the desert, bursts through the passes of the Panhandle like a blast of flame. There it picks up the hot dust and sand, and tossing them about in clouds converts the valley into a veritable pit of hell.

Tribute to the Pen

The pen, like the sword, has a dark side to its history. Not only has it created a good deal of rubbish, but it has appealed to the evil passions of the ignorant and the dishonest; it has incited anarchy, rebellion and hatred. But to the pen are now indebted for all the loveliness of the world. It has enabled poets to sing to us, historians to charm us, philosophers and men of science to share with us their valuable knowledge. It gives us the Bible. It inspired civilization. It is a mighty agent. "Breach the rule of men entirely great."

China's Jubilation

A gas line, a festival of crackers, a banquet, and the raising of the Chinese flag, indicated to the Chinese of Peking that a branch of the Chinese Masonic society had been formed. Chinese from all parts of Peking attended the ceremony, and the mayor and councilors of Peking were guests. The Chinese master of ceremonies was interpreted by returned soldiers who objected to the raising of the Chinese flag alone. Australian and British flags were also hoisted to the top of the flagpole.

Sailors' Superstitions

Time was when sailors would not think of sailing without a charm or pocket piece of some kind to ward off bad luck. Wind heads were a favorite and in nearly every port were maidens to sell them. Sailors were considered essential for bon voyage, especially the butterfly on the shore, dermopreparation for good luck. A pig tattooed on the foot was even more so. The man would never drown. Sailors say not a man is known to have drowned if he possessed this significance of charms against fate.

Wearing of Gloves

Gloves were used as far back as the time of the cave dwellers, but they were not worn by all classes of people until the sixteenth century.

THE MATTER OF TELLING

THE first time we heard an oath administered to a witness, it struck us as odd that he should be sworn to "tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing else but the truth." It seemed to us that it would be sufficient to bid to tell the truth.

We were young then, so years of experience have brought us understanding of the wisdom and the necessity of the oath. Telling the truth may be entirely different from the whole truth and nothing else but the truth and even between the two latter qualifications there may be the widest variation.

Take this case for instance: The morning that Governor Cox was nominated for president the New York stock market, which for a matter of ten days or more had been listless and sagging, suddenly took on activity, as much business being done thereon in one day, as had been done the whole week before, and nearly all the big popular stocks rose substantially in price. Now the stock market is reported by no agency that claims to be altogether fair and neutral in its remarks, but in this particular day's report, it went out of the way, to inject the opinion that the action of the San Francisco convention had nothing to do with the enlivening and strengthening of the market, which was telling more than the truth, intersecting a personal conclusion, that was not a fact involved in its testimony, as to market conditions.

Perhaps memory does not serve true, but we have an impression that on another occasion this same agency went into its report that the market was favorably affected by the action of a Republican convention.

OFF TO A FAIR START

MOST surprising, as well as most pleasant, is the reception given to the nomination of Governor Cox by the Republican papers of the big cities. With the exception of the New York Tribune, whose partisan meanness, and littleness is always to be counted on, and the Philadelphia Ledger, these papers give rather fair and decent discussion to his choice, and concede him to be a worthy and strong candidate.

In the general comment, however, it is noticeable that his calling has set their powder sally. They were all set and primed to make a great tirade against "a Wilson creature," but now they have either to tacitly admit Cox is his own man, or else lie about everything they said before hand about the proceedings of the convention that nominated him.

It is a happy fact, however, that the malice and rancor of partisan rivalries have generally subsided. The people are not as much concerned about politics as they once were, by a long shot. Party names haven't the hold on them they once had and the man that always "votes his straight" has become such an oddity as to earn a place in the zoo.

A THOUGHT ON THINKING

It is often not wholesome to take a naked statement at the impression it is made to carry. A little thought and analyzing may show it to be either false, or deceptive.

To illustrate, not long ago the country was covered thickly with the report of a professed expert, whose especial prey was corporations and trusts, showing how the beef combine was robbing the public, eye, committing the horrible, iniquity of profiteering at its expense. The ferocity was taken out of all he said, by him becoming too exact. He laid the profits of the beef combine at $50,000,000. That's a big sum, or rather it used to be so considered, but appears even somewhat small in itself in these days when we have learned to think in billions. It grows small when it is dissected. Approximately there are 120,000,000 millions of people in the United States. Divide the $50,000,000 by their number and it will show the odious combine is profiteering at the expense of less than fifty cents a person. Nor is that all. The great beef concerns produce about three billion dollars worth of products every year. Profits on that of $50,000,000 would mean no more than 2 per cent, not an excessive margin, it would be admitted.

The expert appears to have erected too broad a superstructure on the base of his figures.

About the finest thing the national convention did was to give Bryan generous tribute for the witchery of his words and then vote him down overwhelmingly. Let it be said that Bryan acquired himself most nobly too, in all respects. Into his case he threw his whole talent and soul, as an earnest, honest man, without hint of anger, or revenge, in the event of defeat. It does him wrong to compare him to the sullen Eli Johnson.

The man who wins is always hailed. There were sullen murmurings, for days against Eli Moore's management of the Cox candidacy, at San Francisco, but when the nomination was made the plucky Buckeye immediately became the hero of them all.

The worst thing Wilson has ever done to the opposition press is to keep his hands off the Democratic national convention. Their spleen against him for that would be increased were such possible.

Might be prudent in the weather man to hold back some of his moisture for a drier period.

THE DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

THE FAMILY CELEBRATES

Dear old dad opened a bottle of champagne in my honor last night at dinner when I told the great news. Everyone was most sweet and happy in my success. Even mother was carried away, despite the fact that it is the end of all true home life, to her way of thinking.

Nanny suggested that we frame the wonderful check and hang it on the dining room wall. But that would be over-enthusiastic. The champagne was perfect, and we sat about the table and talked and talked after we had finished dinner.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

SIR ARCHIBALD SINCLAIR

The secretary of state for war in the English cabinet, himself half American, has chosen a half American as his confidential secretary. That is the relation of Winston Spencer Churchill, whose name is a household word, to Leonard Jerome, daughter of New York, before her marriage in 1871 to Lord Randolph Churchill, third son of the Duke of Marlborough, and of Sir Archibald Sinclair, whose mother, formerly Miss Mabel Sands, was the daughter of Mahlon Sands of the Mahlon Sands family.

New York. Both men are noted for their energy and alertness. Churchill is forty-five and Sinclair is thirty.

Sir Archibald's American antecedents connect him with the Minturn, Stokes and Vanderbilt families. A series of curious fatalities befall his ancestry for two generations. Mahlon Sands, the grandfather, first married a Miss Minturn, who died in 1873, leaving a daughter, Mabel, then aged three, who in 1889, when she was nine, was married to Clarence Grandville Sinclair, grandson and heir of Sir Tulloch Sinclair, head of an old and wealthy Scotch family. The Sands family at that time moved in the most exclusive society of London, where they had resided for several years.

Sir Archibald Sinclair's mother died at his birth. His father was so bereaved that he lost his reason and died within a year. In his infancy Sir Archibald thus inherited a title and double fortune. About the time of the death of Lady Sinclair, Mahlon Sands, the child's grandfather, was crushed under a horse that fell while he was riding in Rotten Row, Hyde Park, dying from the effect in a day or so.

This rapid succession of tragedies cast a gloom over the life of Mrs. Sands, who withdrew from social activities for several years. Finally she emerged again in order to bring out a daughter. One evening in July, 1906, when she failed to appear at a dinner party she was giving in her house in George street, Hanover Square, a maid who went to her room found her sitting on a couch dead.

Sir Archibald was educated at Eton and Sandhurst. He entered the army in 1910. His estates consist of about 25,000 acres. In 1918 he married Marjorie, daughter of Lady Angela Forbes, who has taken such keen interest in his political career that she has learned stenography and typewriting in order that she may serve as his secretary in confidential work.

Of course I had to "fees up about having a studio of my own, and that caused a lull in the getting, for a minute, for mother looked so hurt that I had kept this from her.

I explained to them, however, that I had been driven to do so by an overpowering creative spirit and urge, and by the knowledge that if I did not have absolute peace and quiet I would not be able to accomplish anything.

Father understood this, of course, and pointed out to mother just how he felt on the same subject and how he never permitted anyone to come into his private office when he was thinking out a new idea.

This helped the delicate situation along nicely, and I threw that beloved ally of mine a grateful look over my champagne glass. Dear daddy, if ever a man deserved a place on the golden throne, it is he.

In the end mother forgave me, as she always does, and because she was really so proud of my accomplishment. If Art meant Fame, why she would not be so again as in the past, for mother loves people who do big things as much as anyone else does. Let me sell another work of art while I am reasonable, and she will be the very first one to see that I am a wonder, actually it, and fight for my rights, in the line of peace and quiet, just as hard as she can. Of such stuff are mothers made, bless their dear, loyal hearts.

Jack came in later in the evening and he in turn was fairly taken off his feet by the great news. Laura, good old sport, had not told him, even though I knew that she was bursting to do so. She knew that it would take away from me some of the pleasure of surprising him. And he was surprised. All of that.

What an evening we had then, planning for great deeds to come, and pictures for the future. Jack is really more proud of me and my work than I ever dreamed possible.

Life smiles at me from every corner just at present. I feel so elated that I could cry for joy and I shall in a moment I know, for it's late, late at night, and everyone is in bed but myself, so I can let myself go.

Success, so long only a word to me, and now a very real reality! Success that I thought was impossible for anyone under twenty-five years of age walking into my hands and life as easily as it did this afternoon! Is it any wonder that I feel like weeping for excessive joy?

To think that in a few short weeks my head of Jean will be on newsstands all over the country and even in Europe! I float with the intellectual of this new delight.

Dear giver of all good things, I thank you so much for this success of mine. It is a golden moment in my life that I will never, never forget, no matter what pinhead of fame I may rise to in the future.

Caught For Speeding

William Splitzer of the Temple and Family theatres was one of the speeding offenders caught by Traffic Officer Dewey Parsons of New Boston Monday morning. Splitzer was driving at a fast rate on Routes 40 and 41 when Parsons gave chase and took Splitzer to the police station. He was released with order to appear before Mayor J. S. Davis.

BILLY WHISKER

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

It was near midnight. Stubby's feast and chat with the Chihuahua dog were over and he was lying asleep just outside of Billy's stall. Suddenly he was awakened by something hot dropping on his head and paw. Jumping up to find out what had hurt him, he saw flames pouring out of the open window of the layoff, and as he looked the frightened faces of two tramp appeared at the windows and then disappeared, only to reappear at another window where there was less fire. This window they climbed into and stood prepared to jump but hesitated before taking the risk from that height, as the flames drove them off and they half jumped, half fell to the yard below.

"Keep on chewing, Billy, while I run to the house after help. Everything is quiet there; the night watchman sneaked to the city when every one went to bed and he has not returned, and at the house all are asleep never suspecting that their property is being destroyed and their cattle in danger of cremation. Oh, why did the watchman leave his post?" And Stubby bravely flew to the house and barked and barked, jumping against the door to make more noise and calling to the little Chihuahua dog to help arouse the sleeping inmates.

Every minute the flames rose higher and higher and the blazing building lit up the landscape for miles around. But the inmates slept soundly. Stubby ran to the back of the house and upset a lot of milk pails, knowing they would make a terrible clatter as they rolled about on the stones, then back again he ran to his master's door growling as before. At last a sleepy voice called out:

"If you are after a rat let her alone and lie down, don't arouse the whole household with your noisy barking." "At last I have awakened some one," said Stubby, "and I shall make more noise than ever," so he ran toward the barn and back again, barking furiously all the time so that his master would know something was wrong there, then he again went to the door and growled and whined.

to show time's silver stain. Then the richest man that's living, years to be a boy again. —Detroit Free Press.

The Boy That Was

When the hair about the temples starts to show the signs of gray, and a fellow realizes that he's wandering far away from the pleasures of his boyhood and his youth and never mind, will know the joy of laughter as he did in days of yore. Oh, it's then he starts to thinking of a starchy little lad with a face as brown as berries and a soul supremely glad.

When a gray-haired dreamer wanders down the lanes of memory and forgets the living present for the time of "yesteryear," he takes off his shoes and stockings and he throws his coat away. And he's free from all restrictions, save the rules of mummy play. He may be in tattered garments, but bareheaded in the sun. He forgets his proud successes and the riches he has won.

Oh, there's not a man that lieth but would give his life to be the starchy little fellow that in dream-land he can see.

And the splendors that surround him and the joys about him spread. Only then to rise to taunt him with the boyhood that has fled.

When the hair about the temples starts

Willis—I hear you are doctoring. Willis—Yes, I'm on my way to Doctor Bump now.

Willis—But I heard you went to Doctor Bump in the first place. Willis—I did. He gave me a general examination, and referred me to Doctor Jones, the nerve specialist, who referred me to Doctor Smith, specialist on the optic nerves, who referred me to Doctor Brown, specialist on the minor optic nerves, who referred me to Doctor Robinson, Nerve specialist on the minor optic nerves, who sent me to Doctor Bump again for a general examination.

Ex-Ambassador Gerard condemned a dinner in honor of the legal red tape which has permitted the Kaiser to escape punishment so long.

"Legal red tape and legal incantations," exclaimed Mr. Gerard. "This latter business makes me sympathetic with the young lawyer student, who ridiculed the familiar legal plan. 'Not guilty; but if guilty, alibi, alibi, circumstances!'"

"This plan," said the young lady, "reminds me of my little niece's excuse when she was found with a kitten in her bed."

"Circumstances," said the child's mother. "I thought I told you never again to speak of your bed?"

"But that was last night, mother," the child replied, "and, besides, I never heard you."

What He Meant

"What does autologous mean?" asked Trinkle.

"That's when your wife begins to figure out how much you would save in car fare, and all that, if you had your own machine," replied Trinkle, who had been worked just that way.

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY G. R. MONTGOMERY

NEW YORK, June 7.—Someone described Broadway as a punchbowl of champagne, with roses floating on the surface and sharp, cruel, piercing brains hidden underneath. This, no doubt, proved true to the wasters and gluttons of the White Way who plunge into the bubbling froth of life for Broadway likes to welcome heroes and prove their clay.

But Broadway is not all song, laughter and his friends were out for a walk and while passing a country church John said to his friend:

"Don't the bells sound grand?" "What do you say, John?"

There was William Raymond Still, a former critic of the drama and later a theatrical press agent. Still has made $150 a week for years. But typical of the writing man he dealt generously with his friends and when a mysterious malady resulted in the amputation of a limb he was low in luncheon.

Two hours after the news was received on Broadway a huge benefit was in the process of making. Not a man or woman was asked. They volunteered and a big theatre was donated and no doubt Miss Revell will be made comfortable for life. Nellie Revell was a circus and theatrical press agent—an odd vocation for a woman—but she was one of the best in the profession. She was a jolly spirit in the life of Broadway—and Broadway did not forget her.

Something has got to be done to keep autos from shinning off smooth roads around New York into ditches. The New York State registrar of motor vehicles in announcing the revocation of the licenses of 14 drivers, declares that the use of liquor by motorists in this state is on the increase despite the "dry" laws. In May, 1919, there were 45 court convictions of drunken operators whereas for May, 1920, the records show 46 such convictions.

Some time ago I wrote a series of articles called "Back Home Stuff" for the New York Tribune. A recent post from England brings them to me in book form selling for a shilling, which is more than they are worth. But if the cover is to be believed they were written by Royal Duppé. I don't know. Royal Duppé is a chap with a touch and go. I hope he gets lost in a London fog and barks his ribs.

Away off in the upper reaches of the Bronx they are holding a bicycle tournament. And curiously it is proving one of the biggest attractions ever held in New York. Crowds motor to the place and remain all day. Nearly every car passing through the Bronx has a bicycle rider peering away furiously in the rear. The riders use the automobiles as pace makers.

But little time he came to the trial with a smile on his face.

"Now, my man," started the sergeant major haughtily, "answer my questions smartly. What did you do for a living before you joined the army?"

"I was clerk in an office, sir," replied the private happily.

"Washing out ink spots, I suppose?" sneered the sergeant.

"No, sir," replied the private sweetly. "We employed a retired sergeant major for that sort of work."

What It Meant

"What does autologous mean?" asked Trinkle.

"That's when your wife begins to figure out how much you would save in car fare, and all that, if you had your own machine," replied Trinkle, who had been worked just that way.

Charging infidelity and naming one Edward Pemberton, Fred W. Hafler, plumber, 2304 Eighth street, is seeking a divorce and custody of their two minor children in an action filed in Common Pleas court Wednesday against Amy N. Hafler.

They were married Sept. 1, 1912, and through Attorney F. T. Moreland the plaintiff declares his wife has been guilty of misconduct with Pemberton.

He secured an injunction restraining the defendant from taking the children out of the jurisdiction of court until the case can be heard on its merits and the question as to their custody determined.

A broken left shoulder, several teeth knocked out, cut over the left eye and cut on the chin, were the injuries sustained by Miss Anna Paynter, of Argillite, Ky., about four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when she was struck by a Ford touring car at Second and Court streets. The machine was owned by Charles Dillow, 2104 Ninth street, and was driven by his wife, Mrs. Mary Dillow.

According to Mrs. Dillow, who went to the police station after the accident and left her name and address, she

Plans for the national shooting matches to be held by the government at Camp Perry, Ohio, beginning on August 1, have been announced. The government again this year will pay the expenses of teams of eighteen men from each state and from the various R. O. T. C. camps. Team members will receive five cents a mile for transportation and will also be allowed $1.50 a day for meals while at the school. It is expected that at least 1,400 riflemen will compete.

This year the civilian riflemen who draw his message and subsistence has to attend in two weeks' firing school to be conducted by the former instructors of the army's small arms firing school of the days during the war. Following the close of the school, about August 9, the matches of the National Rifle Association, open to any one and to any old sort of rifle or pistol, commence and run until the time for the government's matches, the national individual, the national pistol team match, and the national team match for the riflemen. In the latter only the regular service rifle and pistol may be used.

The course of fire for the government's rifle matches, both for individuals and the teams, consists ten shots rapid fire—time one minute—keeping, and ten shots sitting—sitting or kneeling, both string 200 yards, on the figure D target. The riflemen fires twenty shots on a 400 yards on the B target with inch bulls-eye, and twenty shots 1,000 yards on the C target with inch bulls-eye.

The case of John Middaugh against Flying Skaggs, for $11, alleged that such contact was heard in Suite 611 East Melburn court at New Boston Tuesday night and the case was left in the hands of the jury with orders to report Wednesday night. The jury asked for time to view the sidewalk involved in the matter. Middaugh said that he put on a sidewalk according to specifications of the village and that after completion Skaggs demanded that the sidewalk be raised to his place. Middaugh may be due the work according to Skaggs and the Skaggs refused to pay him for the work. Skaggs wanted the village to take over the sidewalk and pay for it but the village refused to take on the bill in the matter as it was above the level specified.

At Middaugh's trial it was the contention of Skaggs that it was the obligation of Middaugh to raise the sidewalk. Middaugh said that he did not think he had decided the case in favor of the plaintiff which means Skaggs to pay Middaugh the $11.

Discussion of the provisions of the Gantner Act passed by the last General Assembly designed to give financial relief to cities was the big business before council at its regular meeting Wednesday night. It resulted in the adoption of a resolution, by a vote of 4 to 2, authorizing the submission to the electors at the primary election to be held on August 10, the proposition of exempting from the limitations and pier bridge over Stone's Run at Sterling street crossing, that will be permanent, at a cost of $3,440.

At the next meeting of the city council, the new traffic regulations in remanding council that the new traffic officer is to be put to work, urged that additional traffic regulations be adopted in order that offenders may be prosecuted under city ordinances instead of state laws so as to give the city the benefit of the fines. His request went to the ordinance committee for consideration with instructions to confer with officials of the new auto club who are now working on a draft of traffic regulations; it was stated.

The safety director's request for authority to dispose of the two old automobiles of the police department, and buy a new one, was referred to the committee. He reported the collection at the hospital for the month of June was $27,500.90, and that the electrical inspector's collection for the same period, was $195.

An ordinance prohibiting the use of public vehicles for immoral purposes and providing a penalty of a fine of not more than $200 for each violation was passed, as was also an ordinance appropriating money to take care of small deficiencies in the semi-annual appropriations for the first half of 1920. The latter was passed despite criticism of the state examiner against such practice in his last report.

ASHLAND, KY., July 8.—The sheet can be learned is that the men and mill department of the Ashland Iron and Mining Company is not in operation, due to the fact that the workmen, for some reason, refuse to work. Most of the best mill men are members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Sheet and Tin Workers.

The mill went down last Wednesday evening at 1 o'clock and was scheduled to begin operation again at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. At 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, the men appeared for work and therefore the mill was left idle.

The details of the whole affair are shrouded in mystery. No one will give statements in regard to the facts. The men themselves seem to know nothing about it. The best that union men called upon him last Wednesday for a conference.

Mr. Deedes declared that he would not accept them as representatives of any union, but as employees of the company he would talk with them. He made plain to them that the policy of the company was an open shop and the future policy would be the same. He told them that they were wasting the union scale of wages 48 hours, but that the plant would eventually be an open shop.

The local unionists are sending orders from general headquarters for an official strike is called. The orders should be received before next week.
